

Dear Dr. Graham,

One of my more recent Mark V miracles involved a 90 year old male patient. I had treated his wife previously with good results. When her husband who had been a chiropractic patient in our office in the past developed serious heart problems she wanted us to try to help him. He had seen his cardiologist who had diagnosed him with a right bundle branch block which makes the heart sounds split and causes an incoordination of the contractions of the chambers of the heart. He was scheduled for further more invasive testing the following Monday. I was busy with some patients in the back office when my wife informed me that I had better check this patient out and treat him or send him to the Emergency Room. He was not doing very well. He was slumped over due to total lack of energy and very white. I checked out his heart which had a pronounced split in the first and second heart sounds. But what was most disconcerting was that I could barely hear his heart beating at all. It was extremely weak. I treated him for about a half hour of cold laser on the Mark V, using the Muscle Health and Nervous System Health protocol with the accompanying homeopathic cards and autoimmune settings. Upon re-examination there was no split in the heart sounds and his heart had a very healthy loud lub-dub lub-dub rhythmic beat. We treated him the following day for some blood pressure issues with retrograde health and he was full color and energy. Monday he did his follow up visit with the cardiologist office and after listening to his heart and a brief preliminary test, he was released with a clean bill of health and told to return in the winter (4-5 months from then). If it works for someone in there 90's I think it is worth trying on anyone. Very safe, extremely inexpensive and very effective.
